Hilfsassistentz (6-10 hrs. per Week)

The Social Transitions Research Group at the Department of Social Sciences is looking for a motivated BA or MA student from 1 August 2025 or by arrangement for 6 to 10 hours per week to work on research, teaching, and administrative tasks.

Do you want real-world research experience? Are you a team player, organised, proficient in English, and interested in sustainability research in India?

You will support

- Qualitative and AI-based research.
- Literature reviews in Scopus and Web of Science.
- Interview transcriptions.
- Project, workshop, and conference administration.
- Project communication via a website and social media.

You should have a social science focus (Changing Societies, Sustainable Development, Sociology, Political Science, European Global Studies) and need at least one year to complete their degree at the University of Basel. Interests in theoretical, methodological, and empirical questions about sustainability in India/Asia would be an asset.

If this applies to you, then please send your CV and a motivation letter in English (as one PDF document) to beate.doerflinger@unibas.ch 1 July 2025. We look forward to receiving your application!
